EMERGENCY SERVICES

Emergency Services are the foundation of our business. BELFOR Environmental specializes in serving clients in need of an immediate response 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. OSHA-trained teams rotate on a 7-day schedule to ensure rapid response, stabilization and cleanup of any hazardous material spill.

EXPERIENCED AND PROFESSIONAL

BELFOR Environmental professionals average more than 15 years of experience in emergency response and environmental services. Core team members have personally managed more than 4,000 response removal and remediation projects.

SAFETY AND TRAINING

Our philosophy of "Safety First" is backed by a solid infrastructure of training programs. All employees and subcontractors are required to have OSHA Health and Safety training. All field personnel are required to carry evidence of training to every job site. Specialized training is required for project sites that present specialized hazard challenges, such as:

- Tank Car Railroad
- Intermodal Vessel
- Bloodborn Pathogens
- Radiological Hazards
- Biological Hazards
- Highway Response
- Excavation Hazards
- Specialized Equipment

ALWAYS PREPARED

BELFOR Environmental maintains "pre-stocked" trucks and trailers loaded with equipment and materials for most chemical and petroleum spills - whether land or water-borne. The vehicles are equipped with supplied air respirators and air purifying respirators; chemical pumps, containment booms, generators, and instrumentation; splash suits, disposable coveralls, and chemical gloves; deluge showers/eyewash stations; 85-gallon, 55-gallon and 15-gallon steel drums and poly over pack drums; sorbent materials; poly sheeting; and, an array of cleanup tools and materials.

SINGLE-SOURCE SOLUTIONS

From the decontamination and demolition of process facilities - to an emergency response for chemical or petroleum releases - to asbestos, lead and mold abatement, BELFOR Environmental is the premier provider of single-source environmental services in the United States.
